

Henry is an artist currently residing in Rhode Island, USA. From the earliest moment he could hold a pencil and articulate a mark with intention, he has been creating. He continues to work with his hands with a similar introspective impulse as he did in childhood. He followed and honed this impulse through a BA program, graduating from Marlboro College in 2019.